Last weekend our teacher led our class to visit the History Museum. In the museum, we saw many cultural relics and acquired much historical knowledge. We had a wonderful day at the museum.

I was deeply impressed by everything in the museum.

There are many precious collections in the museum, all of which are the proof of the wisdom of the ancients. This visit made me further appreciate the broad and profound history of China. I am proud that our country has such a brilliant culture.

I hope I can have opportunities to visit more history museums in the future.

Last weekend, our teacher led our class to visit the Great Wall.

The Great Wall, one of the few man-made wonders in the world, was a military defense system in ancient China. In 1987, it was listed as a World Heritage Site. Its military use faded away, but now as an architectural feat of great historical importance, it is undoubtedly a treasure of China. Standing on the Great Wall, I felt as if I were in ancient times. I could see many laborers working hard. It was their hard work that made the Great Wall a miracle.

One possible version:An unforgettable journey

I have visited many places of interest throughout China. But what impressed me most was my journey to Yunnan. Last summer, my parents took me to Yunnan Province, which I had been dreaming of visiting since childhood. We visited many famous tourist attractions, such as Dali Erhai Lake, Lijiang Old Town, Kunming Stone Forest and Jiulong Waterfalls. What made our journey unforgettable was that the field seemed to be covered with a colorful blanket, dotted with various wild flowers. It felt as if we were in a dream.

As a Chinese, I am proud of my motherland, which is famous for its diversity in geography.

One possible version:

Once she finished cooking, she took the pie to him.

"Thank you, Emma," Roger said, and began enjoying the food. When Roger finished eating, he got much better. And he shared his reason why he kept buying ingredients for chicken pies. How he wished his dear wife would come back one day. Hearing it, Emma felt sad. To comfort Roger, she said, "She might not be with you physically, but she'll always be in your heart." After a long talk, Roger felt relieved.

After comforting Roger, Emma promised she'd always come by to take care of him. Every time Emma came, she would cook some delicious and healthy meals for Roger. And she also taught him how to cook them. Thus, he could cook for himself. Gradually, they became close friends. And Roger appreciated how Emma looked after him. "You're the daughter I never had, Emma. Thank you," Roger told Emma one day while they were happily having dinner together.

I nodded. We spent the next hour sitting on the floor playing with the four dogs. Finally, we found the dog called Doug with a purple collar seemed livelier. Thus, we settled on him for our mom. Then, we agreed on the pick-up date. When we arrived home, I said, "I can't get my mind off the green one." Encouraged by my brother, I called and told the couple that we also wanted him. They agreed. "George" was ours, too. On Mom's birthday, we picked up the dogs. We hid the two dogs in my mom's living room while she opened her birthday gifts. Just when she thought she had opened all the birthday presents, Doug and George walked across the room toward her. Mom was so surprised and began to cry. She got down and put them into her arms. Soon, the dogs raced around her joyfully. They began to heal Mom's and our hearts. And slowly, the happiness they brought washed over our family and steadily weakened our sadness.
